

Recruitment Advertising Finally Seen Clearly

TwentyTwentySolutions.io is the recruitment advertising platform that makes hiring easier, faster, and transparent. Where agencies are expensive and job boards ineffective, our platform gives you direct control over your campaigns.

Hire faster, work smarter

Traditional recruitment is slow and costly, but with AI-optimized campaigns you cut manual effort, reduce wasted spend, and fill roles faster while keeping full control over process and cost.

Campaigns built in minutes

Creating recruitment ads doesn't have to be complex, with our guided flow you can launch complete campaigns in just a few steps, without needing marketing expertise or external agencies.

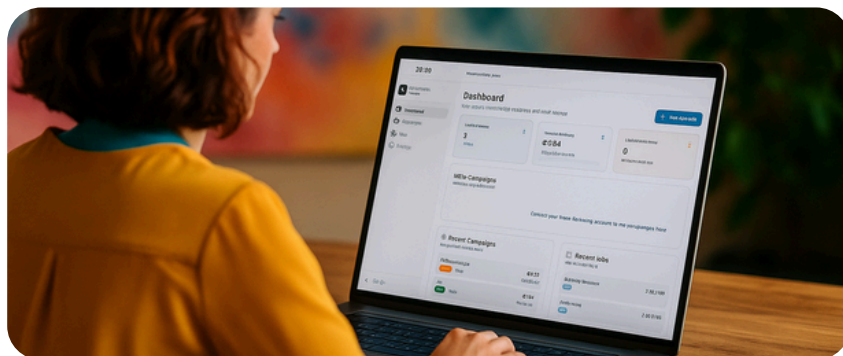

Full clarity on Data

Recruitment spend is often hidden behind unclear reports and agency fees, but with real-time dashboards you see exactly where your budget goes, what results it delivers, and the true cost of every candidate.

Advertising spend solution

No risky upfront payments. Each company gets its own inbuilt creditcard account, so ad spend flows directly and transparently, with no hidden margins and no fronting costs.

Our Pricing model

A simple subscription that scales with you. All features are included, costs are based on job volume, and pricing remains transparent and predictable as your organization grows.
